THE FIGHTING RACE.

Read out the names, and Burke sat back, And Kelly dropped his head, While Shea (they call him Scholar Jack) Went down the list of the dead. Officers, seamen, gunners, mariners, The crews of the gig and yawl, The bearded man and the lad in his teens, Carpenters, coal passers, all, Then knocking the ashes from out his pipe, Said Burke in an off-hand way, "We're all in that dead man's list, by cripes, Kelly and Burke and Shea."

"Well, here's to the Maine, and I'm sorry for Spain," Said Kelly and Burke and Shea.

"Wherever there's Kellys, there's trouble," said Burke.

"Wherever fighting's the game, Or a spice of danger in grown man's work," Said Kelly, "you'll find my name."

"And do we fall short," said Burke, getting mad,

"When it's touch and go for life." Said Shea, "It's thirty-odd years, bedad, Since I charged to drum and fife Up Mary's height and my oldsteepon Stopped a rebel ball on its way, There's more blossoms of blood on our sprigs of green, Kelly and Burke and Shea, And the dead didn't brag." "Well, here's to the Flag," Said Kelly and Burke and Shea.

"I wish 'twas in Ireland, for there's the place," Said Burke, "that we'd die by right, In the cradle of our soldier race. After one good stand-up fight, My grandfather fell on Vinegar Hill, And fighting was not his trade. But his rusty pike's in the cabin still, With Hessian blood on the blade."

"Aye, aye," said Kelly, "the pikes were great, When the word was clear the way, We were thick on the roll in ninety-eight, Kelly and Burke and Shea."

"Well, here's to the pike and the sword and the like," Said Kelly and Burke and Shea.

And Shea, the scholar, with rising joy, Said: "We were at Ramillies, And left our bones at Fontenoy, And up in the Pyrenees, Before Dunkirk, on Landon's Plains, Cremona, Lille and Ghent. We're all over Austria, France and Spain. Wherever they pitched a tent, We've died for England from Waterloo To Egypt and Dargao. And still there's enough for a corps or crew, Kelly and Burke and Shea."

"Well, here's to good, honest fighting blood," Said Kelly and Burke and Shea.

"Oh, the fighting races don't die out, If they seldom die in bed, For love is first in their hearts, no doubt," Said Burke; then Kelly said:

"When Michael, the Irish Archangel, stands, The angel with the sword, And the battle dead from a hundred lands Are ranged in one big horde, Our line that for Gabriel's trumpet waits, Will stretch three deep that day, From Jebozaphat to the golden gates, Kelly and Burke and Shea."

"Well, here's, thank God, for the race and the sod," Said Kelly and Burke and Shea.

SOCIETY SHOCKED.

Arrest of Topnotchers Creates a Stir in Two Bluegrass Counties.

A special from Lexington says a scandal of no mean proportions has shocked society in Scott and Woodford counties, caused by the arrest in Paris of Mrs. J. B. Rogers, wife of a hotel keeper of Georgetown, and John Meacham, a prominent Midway business man of family.

While being taken from Paris to Georgetown Meacham gave Officer Lusby of Georgetown the slip, and he was busy all yesterday trying to recapture him.

Mrs. Rogers was thought to be living happily with her husband.

GOOD WOMAN GONE.

Contracts a Fatal Disease While Administering to the Needs of Others.

Mrs. Elsie Clift died at noon yesterday at her home near Lewisburg after an illness of diphtheria.

The circumstances under which Mrs. Clift contracted the disease which caused her death are particularly sad. A kind neighbor, ever ready to respond to a call when others were in sickness and trouble, she visited a home where a child was stricken with diphtheria and nursed and tended it. At its death she willingly performed all the duties attendant on its burial, and shortly after she, too, was taken down with the same illness. The most careful attention was given her, but she succumbed to the disease yesterday at noon.

Deceased was a daughter of the late John Gabby and was 37 years of age.

Mrs. Clift was one of the best women in Mason county, and her death will be learned with deep regret.

Surviving are her husband, three sisters and two brothers—the former, Mrs. James Evans and Mrs. John Steers of Lewisburg and Mrs. Richard Davis of Donerail, and the latter, Messrs. John Gabby of Fernleaf and William Gabby of this city.

The funeral will take place from the family residence at 1 o'clock, sun time, this afternoon, with brief services by the Rev. Cleon C. Kays.

The interment will be at Mayslick at 3 o'clock, sun time.

From New Zealand.

REXFORD, New Zealand, Nov. 23, 1906.

I am very pleased to state that since I took the agency of Chamberlain's medicine the sale has been very large, more especially of the Cough Remedy. In two years I have sold more of this particular remedy than of all other makes for the previous five years. As to its efficacy, I have been informed by scores of persons of the good results they have received from it, and know its value from the use of it in my own household. It is so pleasant to take that we have to place the bottle beyond the reach of the children.
